A clone of Asana designed to optimize team workflow and collaboration

- Collaborated with a team of engineers, followed AGILE methodologies and best practices for optimal organization and implementation of planned features
- Integrated modern front end libraries, such as, React-Redux, adding state management capabilities that reduced repetitive and overcomplicated code
- Spearheaded a group effort to launch a hosted web app, beginning with planning of database design, designing wireframes and routing, moving to coding with peer code-review which resulted in a near pixel-perfect clone of Asana

Mochi | JavaScript, React/Redux, Express/PostgreSQL
